PARLIAMENT, &c.

The Coronation Oath of Scotland, contained in the Eighth Act of Parliament 1567, sworn by King James VI. King Charles I. and II. and by King William ond Queen Mary, at their Acceptance of the Crown of Scotland, and inserted in the National Covenant.

TE William and Mary, King and Queen of Scorland, faithfully Promise and Swear; by this our folemn Oath, in presence of the Eternal God, That during the whole course of our Life, We will serve the same Eternal God, to the utmost of our power, according as he has required in his most holy Word, Revealed and concained in the Old and New Testament: And according to the same word, shall Maintain the true Religion of Christ Jefus, the Preaching of his holy Word, and the due and right Ministration of the Sacraments now Received and Preached within the Realm of Scotland; and shall Abolish and Gainstand all false Religion, contrary to the same; and shall Rule the People committed to our Charge; according to the Will and Command of God, Revealed in his aforesaid Word, and according to the loveable Laws and Constitutions, received in this realm, no ways Repugnant to the faid word of the Eternal God; and shall procure to the uttermost of our power, to the Kirk of God and whole Christian People, true and perfect peace in all time coming; that We Thall preferve and keep inviolated, the Rights and Rents, with all just priviledges of the Crown of Scotland, neither shall We Transfer nor Alienate the

Degrees, Reife, Oppression, and all kind of wrong; and We shall Command and procure; that Justice and Equity in all Judgements, be keeped to all Persons without Exception; as the Lord and Father of all Mercies, shall be Mercifull to us: And We shall be careful to Root out all Hereticks and Enemys to the true worship of God, that shall be Convict by the true Kirk of God, of the foresaids Crimes out of our lands and Empire of Scotland; and We saithfully Assirm the Things above written by our solemn Oath, signed by us at Whitehall the Eleventh Day of May One Thousand Six Hundred, sourseer and nine Years.

Part of King William's Letter to the Convention of Estates, declaring he had accepted the Grown and taken the Oath.

WILLIAM R.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Letter to us, with your Petition, or Claim of Right, the Grievances, and your Address for turning you into a Parliament, which were all read in our Presence: After which the Queen and we did take and sign the Oath tendered to us by your saids Commssioners, which (by Gods Assistance) ance) we will religiously observe.

At our first engaging in this Undertaking, we had Particular Consideration and regard for Scotland, and therefore we emitted a Declaration for that, as well as that Kingdom, which we intend to make good and effectual to you and you shall always find us ready to protect you, and assist you in making such Laws as may secure your Religion, Libertics, and Properties, and prevent or redress whatever may be justly grievous to you.

We shall never believe that the true Interest of the People and the Crown, can be opposite; and shall always account that our greatest Prerogative to enact such Laws as may promote Truth Peace and Wealth in our Kingdoms given at our Court, at Hampton-Court the seventeenth Day of May, one thousand six hundred and eighty nine, and of our Reign the first year.—

By His Majesties Command,

MELVIL.

ACT Rescinding the first Act of the second

Our Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and Queen's Majesty's, taking into their serious Consideration, that by the second Article of the Grievances presented to their Majesty's, by the Estates of this Kingdom; it is declared, that the first Act of the second Parliament of King Charles the second, Entituled, Act asserting his Majesty's Supremacy over all Perfore, and in all causes Ecclesiastical, is inconsistent with the Establishment of the Church Government now desired, and ought to be Abrogate. Therefore their Majesty's with advice and consent of the Estates of Parliament, do hereby Abrogate, Rescind and Annul the foresaid Act, and doclares the same in the whole heads, Articles and Clauses thereof, to be of no sorce or effect in all time coming.

ACT Restoring the Presbyterian Ministers, who were thrust from their Churches since the first day of January 1661.

April 25. 1690.

Or as much as, by an Act of this present Parliament, relative to, and in profecution of the claim of Right, Prelacy, and the Superiority of Church Officers above Prelbyters, is abolished: And that many Ministers of the Prelbyterian Perswasion, since the first of January, one thoufand fix kundred fixty one, have been deprived of their Churches, or banished for not conforming to Prelacy, and not complying with the Courfes of the Time. Therefore their Majellies, with Advice and confent of the Estates of Parliament, ordain and appoint, that all these Presbytorian Ministers, yet alive, who were thrust from their charges fince the first day of January, one thousand fix hundred fixty one, or banished for not conforming to Prelacy, and not complying with the Courses of the Time, have forthwith free accels to their Churches, that they may presently exercise the Ministry in these Paroches, without any new ACT Ratifying the Confession of Faith and settling Presbyterian Church Government.

June 7 1600. Ur Soveraign Lord and Lady, the King and Queen's Majestys, and three Estates of Parliament, conceiving it to be their bound duty, after the great deliverance, that God bath lately wrought. 1 for this Church and Kingdom, In the first place, to settle and secure therein, the true Protestant Religion, according to the Truth of God's Word, as it hath of a long time been professed within this land. As also, the Government of Christ's Church within this Nation, agreeable to the Word of God, and most conducive to the advancement of true Piety and Godliness, and the establishing of peace and Tranquillity within this realm; And that by an Article of the claim of Right, it is declared, that Prelacy, and the Superiority of any Office in the Church above Presbyters, is and hath been a great and insupportable Grievance and Trouble to this Nation, and contrary to the inclinations of the Ge-nerality of the People, ever fince the Reformation, (they having Reformed from Popery by Presbyters,) and therefore ought to be abolished; Likeas by one Act of the last Session of Parliament Prelacy is abolished. Therefore their Majestys, with Advice and Consent of the faid three Estates, do hereby Revive, Ratisse, and perpetually confirm all Laws, Stututes and Acts of Parliament, made against, Popery, and Papilts, and for the Maintainance and Prefervation of the true Reformed Protestant Religion, and for the true Church of Christ, within this Kingdom, in so far as they confirm the fame, or are made in Favours thereof. Likeas they by these presents, ratifie, and establish the Confession of Faith, now read in their presence; and Voted, and Approven by them, as the publick and and avowed Confession of this Church, containing the Sum and Substance of the Dostrine of the reformed Churches; Which confession of faith is subjoined to this present Act; As also, they do establish, Ratisse, and confirm, the Presbyterian Church Government and Discipline: That is to fay, the Government of the church, by Kirk-Selfions, Presbyteries, Provincial Synods and general Assemblies, Ratified and Established by the 114 Act James VI Par. 12. Anno. 1592 Entituled Ratification of the liberty of the true Kirk, &c. And thereafter received by the general Confent of this Nation to be the only Government of Christ's Church within this Kingdom Reviving, Renewing, and Confirming the foresaid Act of Parliament, in the whole heads thereof Except that Part of it relating to Patronages, which is hereafter to be taken into confideration. And Rescinding, Annulling and making void the Acts of Parliament following, viz. Act anent Restitution of Bishops, James VI. Par. 18 Cap. 2. Act Ratifying the Acts of the Assembly, 1610 James VI Par. 21. Cap. 1. Act anent the Election of Arch Bishops, and Bishops James VI. Par. 22. SOME

REMARK I.

THE Design of printing the Act of Parliament 1690, ratifying the Confession of Faith, and Settling and establishing Presbyterian Church Government, with the following Remarks upon the same at this Time, is for the Desence, and Vindication of the said Act, from the Mali-ciousand groundless Aspersions of Adversaries, and fetting in the Matter in a true Light, according to the Reformation Principles of the Church of Scotland, and the Laws of this ancient Kingdom, to which the very reading of the foregoing Acts of Parliament is a full, sufficient, and complete, Aniwer: And the following Remarks are a further Refutation and Confutation of these Malicious and groundless Aspersions most unjustly cast upon these Acts, and other Acts of Parliament made fince the Revolution. And what is more strange and furprifing, is to hear those who pretend to be achering to Reformation Principles, wrefling, pleading, explaining, and stretching the Laws both against themselves and our Reformation Principles, contrary both to Scripture, Reafon, Law, and the Principles of our worthy Reformers, who interpreted, explained and plead the Laws quite otherwife Instance.

In Calderwood's Church History, page 193, after Animadversions of Offences conceived upon the Acts of Parliament made Anno 1684, presented by the Commissioners of the Kirk to the King's Majesty, at the Parliament holden at Linlithgow in December 1595 a Supplication was presented by them, wherein they say, when speaking of the true Interpretation of Laws, "The Law itself saith, They "that may speak plainly in making of Laws, contracts, or do

" any fuch thing, and speak obscurely and ambiguously " such Contracts and Laws are to be exponed against the

"Maker or former, quia potuerunt apertius dicere," because they could fpeak more plainly.

And to confirm this, the Author of the Inquiry into the Method of letting Paroches, conform to the Acts and Practice of the Church of Scotland, page 39 " It is a Principle " in the Interpretation of all Laws, fays the Author, that these Laws which savour natural Liberty in the free Exercise of our Right are to be extended, but these which seem to restrain natural Liberty are stricts juris, that is, initialed to no Extension beyond what is expressed in their Statute. And if these Statutes which restrain Men's natural Right, are so odious in the Eye of the Law, as that by a strict Interpretation, they are allowed to mean nothing but what is expected, in so much, that " if the Expression is in the least doubtful, the Presump-

" tion still runs in Favours of the Right restrained, much "more must it be so when a spiritual Right is so restrained, "as being more edious and unwarrantable than any such "restraint, of civil Right can be." The Author makes considerable Use of this through the sollowing Part of the Pamphlet. See also Bayne's Notes, page 5. To the same purpose, all which are very good Interpretations, and Explanations of Laws and how we should read and understand the same.

So that all Laws are to be explained and interpreted in Favours of the Subjects, for whom the Law is made, and not in Favours of the Laws themfolves, or the makers thereof; and it is a received and agreed to Principle among all Men that when Words, Actions, or Laws among Men, can bear a good Scufe or Meaning, that we should not put a bad Meaning or Sense upon the same, or make them speak, what perhaps the Makers thereof never thought upon, or intended, and what they would have publickly disowned were they alive to do it. Afterded Ignorance, refusing necessary Knowledge and wilful Rebellion against the Light received, are both alike detectable before the Lord: We should call no Acts or Periods either better or worse than they really are.

The Act rescinding the blasphemous Act of Supremacy is made in redressing one of the Articles of Grievances represented by the Comissioners of the Convention of Estates of the Kingdom of Scotland, to King William and Queen Mary, to be redreffed in Parliament at their taking the Coronation Oath of Scotland, and receiving and accepting the Claim of Right of Scotland, which Claim of Right and Coronation Oath is ratified by the 12 and 21 Acts of the Convention of Estates, dated April 11. 18. 1689. and ratified in the first Actor the first Parliament at the Revolution, dated June 5 the same 1 Parliament and by this Act reseinding the Act of Supremary, in Profecution of the laid Claim of Right, and Articles of Grievances, all the Tyranny and Arbitary Government of that perfecuting Period, from the Restoration on 1660. to the Renolution 1688. is plainly condemned and rescinded; in regard that it was in Projecution of this ulurped Blasphemy, Tyranny, and Arbitrary Government that that all the Tyranny and Persecution which took place in that perfecuting Period was carried on.

There are many so wilfully blind and ignorant of the very History of the Affairs of the Revolution Settlement, and hardned in their Unbelief of the Truth, that they have obstinatly denied that the Act of Supremacy, was ever refeinded to this Day, or that ever King William and Queen Mary took the ancient Scots Coronation Oath to maintain the True Religion at the Revolution: But the foregoing Act, rescinding the Act of Supremacy, and of King William and Queen Mary's Coronation Oath printed above, may clearly convince them of their Mistake, if they will be convinced with the Truth.

But none are so brind as those who will not see, a strong Instance of which I lately had from a certain Person who said, that although he had the Act Rescinding the Act Rescissory in his hands he would not believe it which wilful Rebellion against the Light is both a Proof of the most affected Ignorance and at the same Time very detestable in the sight of the Lord, too much of which universally prevails in this Nation at this present day.

REMARK II.

Were thrust from their Churches, since the strikt of Jan. 1661. is another plain condemning the Tyranny and Persecution of these suffering Presbyterian Ministers, who suffered for bearing publick Testimony for the Interest, Cause, Covenant, and Work of Reformation, and against Presacy, Tyranny, and other sinful Courses of that Persecuting Period: And the restoring of these Ministers who had carried on that glorious covenanted Work of Reformation in the Church of Scotland, in that Covenanting and reforming Period, from 1638 to 1650, to their Churches and stipends, upon their former Relation, without any new call, was a plain Homologation, Corroboration, and Approbation of the covenanted Work of Reformation, attained unto, prosessed, and happily established by Law in the Church of Scotland, in that reforming covenanting Period. and is a plain difregarding, condemning, rescinding, and abolishing, the Act Recissory: for the foresaid Act 1690." declares, that all these suffering Presbyter ian Ministers who were then alive, who had been thrust from their Charges fince the first of Jan. 1661. or banished for Non-conformity to Prelacy, and not complying, with the finful Courses of the Times, have forthwith free Access to their Churches, that they may presently exercise their Ministry in these Paroches where formerly they had been fettled in the reforming Period, without any new call thereto, before the Act Rescissory had a being: And they having been settled in their Paroches before the faid Act Rescissory had a being, it is evident that the Act of Parliament 1690. restored and continued them upon the old Legal Establishment, settled in the Acts of our reforming Parliaments which is a plain Approbation of the covenanted Work of Reformation, and Reformation Principles of the Church of Scotland, formerly carried on by them in that reforming Period above mentioned, and was a plain opening a Door, and putting the Power in their Hands to receive and carry on that Covenanted Work of Reformation attained unto in that reforming Period, and building the Church on her own Heap, Ter. 30. 18. And that they did not then revive and carry on the same was their own, and not the Fault of the State.

REMARK III.

Ing William and Queen Mary, and the three Estates of Parliament, in their 5 Act of Parliament, 1690, "de"clares it to be their bound Duty, after the great Deliver"ance which God hath lately wrought for this Church and
"Kingdom, in the first place, to settle and secure therein
"the true Protestant Religion, according to the Truth of God's Word, as it hath of a long Time been professed within this Land; as also the Government of Christ's Church within this Nation agrees ble to the Word of God and most conducive to the Advancement of true Piery and Godlinels, and the establishing of Peace and Tran-

" quillity within this Realm."

In these Words, the whole of our covenanted Work of Reformation attained unto, in all the reforming Periods is Included, Homologated, and plainly Approved of, viz. that reforming Period, from 1560. to 1597. which was the Time of our Reformation from Popery, before Prelacy was introduced into the Church of Scotland by Law; and also that reforming Period, from 1638 to 1660. which was the Time of our Reformation from Prelacy; for it was only in these two reforming Periods, that the true reformed Protestant Religion, and Presbyterian Church Government and Principles were protested within this Land in a National Way, which this whole Act establishes and secures in this Church, as the faid Act clearly proves.

2ly, In these Words the Divine Right of Presbyterian Church Government is plainly and clearly afferted, and declared to be founded on the Word of God, and agreeable thereto, and most conducive to the Advancement of true Piety and Godliness, and the establishing of Peace, and Tranquillity within the Realm of Scotland; for it is that Church Government, which this whole Act ellablishes and fecures, as the faid Act also more fully bears; and this is also a clear Vindication of Presbyterian Government, and Principles, from that malicious, groundless, and malignant Aspersion and Reproach that the same has no Foundation in the Word of God, and is inconfiltent with Kingly Government, and for promoting feditious Principles: And likewise, the Words, in this Act clearly prove, that our Presbyterian Government settled at the Revolution, is founded upon the Wordrof God and neither upon the Inclinations of the People, nor yet according to its Civil Establishment in the year 1592. except in so far as the said Establishment is agreeable to, and founded upon the Word of God And both in the 2 Act of Parliament 1700, and in the 3 Act of Parliament 1702 and in the 2 Act Parliament 1703 this true reformed Protestant Religion, and Presbyterian Church Government, as reformed, and happily established in this Church, in the foresaid reforming Periods is twice and a-

REMARK IV.

THE faid Parliament, In the same Art 1. 1690 "de"clares, that Prelacy, and the Superiority of any "Office in the Church, above Presbyters, is, and hath been a great and insupportable Grievance and Trouble to this Nation, and contrary to the Inclinations of the generality of the People ever fince the Reformation, they having reformed from Popery by Presbyters, and therefore ought to be abolished: Likeas, by an Act of the "last Session of this Parliament, Prelacy is abolished."

These Words contain a threefold Testimeny for the True Religion, and against Prelacy established by Law. 1. That the Church of Sectland reformed from Popery to Presbyterian Government at our first Reformation, Anno 1560. 2. That there has been a publick Testimony always kept up by our Reformers, and the Generality of the People against Prelacy, as a false Religion, evere fince the said abjured Prelacy was introduced into the Church of Scotland; as is to be feen in our folemn Covenants, and Acts of our reformed Assemblies. 2. That Prelacy is a great, grievous, and unsupportable Yoke, and consequently, in the Eye of the Law, must be contrary to Scripture; and this Declaration, both in the Claim of Right, in the Act abolishing Prelacy, and in this Act establishing Presbyterian Government, is a clear Vindication, both of our worthy Reformers, and reforming Assemblies, in our several reforming Periods, condemning Prelacy, and the Office of Bishops, as a file Religion, baving no Warrant nor Foundation in the Word of God.

the Inclinations of the People, and not as contrary to the Word of God and our Covenants. Answ. When the Parliament 1640, in their 6 Act abolished Prelacy, they did not abolish the same as contrary to the Word of God, and our folemn Covenants, as is to be feen in the faid Act, printed in the Collection of the Confessions of Faith, p. 520. And there are not so many Reasons given in the said Act for abolishing Prelacy, as there is in this Act at the Revolution, as by comparing the same will appear. And the Preamble to the Act 1690, bears that Presbytery was to be fettled as a Government agreeable to the Word of God, and Prelacy being the direct opposite of Presbytery must be repealed as contrary to the Word of God. And when the Inclinations of the People were for Presbyterian Government, whichis the Ordinance of God, and that Government which the Lord IESUS CHRIST hath left in his Church, and by which all the Churches of Christ ought to be Governed to the end of the World, it was most reasonable for the Civil Magistrate, to ratify and establish the same by Law; especially confidering, that the fame Presbyterian Government has been formerly happily established in this ancient Kingdom, by our reforming Parliaments, in our feveral reforming Periods; as is to be feen in the 114 Act of Parliament 1592, in the 6 Act of Parliament 1640, and ratified confirmed, and fully established in the 6 Act of Parliament 1641 where King Charles I. was personally present. And besides the Inclinations of the People, Prelucy is also abolished in the faid Acts, as a great and unsupportable Grievance and Trouble to this Nation, as fad experience clearly and undeniably proved: To Prelates and Curates, who were always of Antichristian persecuting andbloody Principles, were the Ringleaders of all the Late 28 Years of Prelatick Tyranny and Persecution from the Restoration of King Charles II. 1660, to the Revolution 1688.

"True Church of Christ within this Kingdom, in fo far as they confirm the same, or are made in savour thereof."

These Words plainly Revive, Ratify, perpetually Confirm, and establish all the Acts, Laws and Statutes, madein all the Reforming Parliament in Scotland in the reform ing Periods of the Church of Scotland; both thefe made in the Reforming Parliaments from 1560 to 1597 establishing the first Work of Reformation, and these made in the reforming Parliaments, held from 1640 to 1651. for ratifying and establishing the covenanted Work of Reformation of the Church of Scotland, in Doctrine, Worship, Discipline, and Government, in that reforming Period; particulary the Acts ratifying the Acts of Parliament by ratifying the Covenants, Directory for Worship, Form of Presbyterian Church Government, Confession of Faith, Catechisms, &c. the faid Acts being also expressly made for the Maintainance and Preservation of the True Protestant Reformed Religion, and Presbyterian Church Government and Principles, as professed, and happily established in this Church in the faid reforming Periods, and against Popery in both these Reforming Periods. All which are expressly Revived and Restored in this 5 Act 1690. So that all the Legal securities given to this Church in that reforming Period from 1638 to 1651, are all revived, ratified, and perpetually confirmed, and established in all Times coming, both by this 5 Act of Parliament 1690, the 22 Act of Parliament 1693, the 2 of Parliament 1700, the 3 Act of Parliament 1702 the 2 Act of Parliament 1703, and the 6 Act of Parliament 1707 all expressly ratifying, approving, and perpetually confirming, the foresaid 5 Act of Parliament 1690, in the whole Heads and Articles and Clauses thereof as if the said Act had been therein set down at Large. All which is a further establishing and securing of the whole Work of Reformation attained unto in all the foresaid Reforming Periods of this Church, and a ratifying and restoring, and further establishing all the Reforming Laws and Acts made in these Reforming Periods ratifying and establishing the same. And Lawyers affert, That by the forefaid Clause, in this Act 1690, every Good Law that ever was made in favours of the True Reformed Religion and the Church, is revived, and ratifyed: And fo-

the whole of the Covenanted Work of Reformation of Religion attained unto, and happily established in this Reformed Church, in all her reforming Periods, are all standing authorised and ratified by Law. And this restoring of the Laws, Statutes, and Acts ratifying and establishing the True Reformed Religion, and Presbyterian Government in the several Resorming Periods of this Church, is a plain rescinding of the Acts Recissory Rescinding the same, made at the Desection to Prelacy, in the first Session of Charles the second's first Parliament 1661 which corrects the Mistake of those who say, that the Act Recissory is still standing Unre-

Think of the copy of the last

pealed or Rescinded.

If it be faid, that if all the Laws relating to the Work of Reformation, made in the last Reforming Period be reflored, what was the need of the Parliaments, ratifying the Westminster Confession of Faith, in this very Act, since it was ratified together with the Catechisms Larger and shorter and Acts of Affembly approving the same in the 16 Act of Parliament 1649? Answer There was not the less need for the fame that the former Ratification was revived and Restored, for Abundance of the Law, does not break the Law as we use to say, Especially as the Confassion of Faith was the chiefest Part of that blessed Work of Reformation attained unto in that last Reforming Period, in Prosecution of the bleffed Ends of the Solemn League and Covenant. Befides there was another. Reason for a new Ratification of the Westminster Confession of Faith, and that is, the faid Confession was not insert in the Act of Parliament ratifying the same Anno 1649, which is done in this Act ratifying it in the Year 1690 Whereby the Scriptural and Pure Doctrine of this Reformed Church, attained unto in the forefaid Reforming period is embodied with our Civil Laberties. So that we have as good a Right in Law to the one, as we have to the other: Confequently the last Ratification is not a Hurt to, but rather an Apporobation, Confirmation, and Corroboration of the other: So that therelis no Ground for any to cast at the one and hold by the other for they are both one and the same; and the Last a Ratification of the first and as our first Confession of Faithwhich was ratified by the Parhament 1560, but not inferted in the Act, was again ratified and approved by King and

THE faid Act 1690, "ratifies and establishes the "Confession of Faish now read in their Presence, and voted and approven by them, as the publick and avow-

a ed Confession of this Church, containing the Sum and " fubstance of the Doctrine of the Reformed Churches," And appoints the fame to be subjoymed to the said Act, which accordingly is Inferted at large in the faid Act, in the printed Acts of Parliament, as the first Confession of Faith of the Church of Scotland is ratified and inferted in the above cited 3, Act of Parliament 1567. There are some who object, that the Confession of Faith is not properly ratified in this Act of Parliament 1690, because the Scripture Proofs are not Insert, as well as the Words of the Confession in the Body of the Act it self. Answer. This Objection is made by none but fuch as cannot endure to hear the least good Word spoken of the Revolution Parliament; but the Weakness and Absurdity of it will appear, if it is confidered, (1) That all the Books of the old and new Teltament, under their proper Names are inferted in the first Chap. of the Confession and declared to be "given by " Inspiration of God, to be the Rule of Faith and Life." So that the whole Canonical Scripture being intert in the Confession and the faid Confession insert in the Laws, it follows, that the whole Bible, with a Testimony to its-Authority, stands embodied with the Laws of the Kingdom. And as the Westminster Confession of Faith is, in this particular Instance, proferable to the old Confession, that all the Books of Inspired Scripture are particularly mentioned therein, which are not in the faid old Confession which was ratified and registrated in Parliament 1567. So it is the Excellency of the Act of Parliament at the Revolution 1690, that the whole Bible, by the Titles of the Books thereof, is inferted therein, which was never done in any Aft of Parliament before: And therefore there is not the least Shadow of an Objection against the Parliament 1690. as if they flighted the Scripture Proofs, when they affert the Divine Inspiration and Authority of the whole Bible. (2.) The Act of the Estates of Parliament 1649, ratifying the Westminster Confession of Faith, does not so much as insert the Confession itself, and therefore the embodying thereof, by the Parliament, 1690, with the Laws afferting our Civil Liberties, is a Step of Reformation, not attained unto in the Governanting Period, between 1638, and 1650. (3.) It must be remembred, that the Scripture Proofs are not properly perly a part of our Confession of Faith; for our Confession of Faith is not the Scripture, but a form of found Words, founded thereon. It is true, that the afferting that the whole Books of the Old and New Testament are given by Inspiration of God to be the Rule of Faith and Life, is a very material Branch of our Confession, but the particular Scripture Proofs are not properly a Part of it : They are the Ground and Foundation upon which we confels our God, in the Terms and Expressions used in the Confession: So that there was no need to infert any more in the Act of Ratification, than the Words of the Confession it felf. (4.) If it be faid, that the Scripture Proofs are not Printed in the Margin of the Act of Parliament, 1690, as they were in the Act 1567 ratifying the first Confession in Skeen's Edition of the old Acts of Parliament, published by Authority, it is answered, That the Margin is no Part of the Law; Belides there are no References in Skeen's Edition, either by Letters or other Marks, from the Body of the Confession to the particular Scriptures of the Margin which is a further Evidence that these Scripture Proofs were never designed to be a Part of the Law. (5.) It is faid further, That the Larger and Shorter Catechisms are not ratified by the Act of Parliament, 1690, as they had been formerly by the Act of the Estates, 1649. It is answered, That the Confession of Faith is ratified, which is acknowledged by the Assembly, 1647, to be the chiefest Part of that Uniformity in Religion, which, by the Solemn League and Covenant was engaged to be carried on in that reforming Period : Besides, all Acts made in Favours of the True Protestant Religion are revived and ratified by the Act 1690, and consequently thus ratifying the Larger and Shorter Catechisms among the fest. So that. those who deny that the Westminster Confession of Faith is ratified at the Revolution, 1690, as some of the separating Brethren and their Adherents do, at the same time, they condemn the faid Confession of Faith as approved by the General Assembly, 1647, and ratified by the Parliament, 1649. As for my part, I refolve, through Grace ever to adhere to the faid Confession of Faith, as the Confession of my Faith, till those who are otherwise minded, show me a better.

REMARK VII.

FTER the faid Parliament in the faid Act 1690. has ratified and established the Westminster Confession of es containing the Sum and Substance of the True Religion contained in our former received Standards, "They do ellablish, ratify, and confirm the Presbyterian Church " Government and Discipline; that is to say, the govern-" ment of the Church by Kirk-fellions, Presbyteries, Pro-" vincial Synods, and General Affemblies, ratified and "established by the 114 Act Jo. 6. Parliament xii. " Anno 1592, entituled Ratification, of the Liberties " of the true Kirk, &c. And thereafter received by the " general Confent of this Nation, to be the only Govern-" ment of Christ's Church within this Kingdom, reviving, " renewing and confirming the forelaid Ad of Parliament, in the whole Heads thereof, except that Part of it relating to Partronages, which hereafter is to be taken into con-" sideration." From this part of the Ast I remark (1.) That the whole Work of the Reformation of the Church of Scotland, carried on from 1560, to 1597. including the First Confession of Faith and other seceived Standards approven by this Church, is again revived, and reflored, ratified and established. The same being all ratified in the faid Act of Parliament 1502, which is the raue Religion mentioned in, and sworn to in the Burgess Outh; and so the same True Religion that was professed and authorised by Law when the Burgefs Outh was first made and taken is fill authorised by Law to this Day, which, by the by, Thous the Grofs Stupidity of Andrew Stenenfin in his Letter to Mr. Fifter Page 21. where he fays, that its without Proof, that Mr. Fifter has affirmed that our old Confession is ratified in the 1690. That, what Mr. Fisher says is true, will appear, by confidering that the Act 1690, ratifies the 1792, and that ratifies the 99 Act, 1581, with the hail particular Acts therein mentioned; amongst which Acts, the Act ratifying our old Confession is expresly mentioned as one; which Act Mr. Fifter expresly cites; to if he regards Truth he ought publickly to confess his Ignorance and Mistake in this and his other gross Impositions

Act of Parliament, 1640, fat down upon the very fame Act and Civil Establishment 1592, that She fat down upon at the Revolution, as may be seen by comparing the faids Act 1690 with the faid 6 Act of Parliament, 1640. in the Confessions of Faith, Page 220, above cited: And whoever condemns the Revolution Parliament for fettling the Churchon the faid Act, at the fame time condemns the Parliament 1640, who also settled the Church upon the very fame Act 50 Years before them: And there is not such a full Act of Parliament made Establishing Presbyterian Church-Government and the several Sorts of Judicatories thereof in all that reforming Period betwixt 1638 and 1650, as the faid Act 1592 is. And fince the reforming Affemblies of this Church have approven and received the Westminster Catechisms directory for Worship, torm of Presbyterian Church-Government, agreed upon by the Affembly of Divines at Westminster, as agreeable to the Word of God, and the received Doctrine, Worship, Discipline, and Government of the Church of Scotland, which is the true Religion bound unto in the Burgess Oath, Therefore the Burgess Oath binds to this, as well as to the former received Standards of this Church, made in her first reforming period.

2/y In this Part of the Act 1690, the whole Covenanted Work of Reformation carried on in Profecution of the Ends of the Covenants in that reforming Period, from 1638, to 650 Inclusive, are clearly confessed, acknowleded, approven, and corroborated; for it was only during that reforming Period that the True Principles of Religion, and Presbyterian Church Government were Nationally received and professed as the only Government of Chrst's Church made ratifying and confirming the same since.

2dly. As to the taking the Clause of the Act 1592, concerning Patronage into Confideration, the same was accordingly done, and Patronages were releinded in the 12 Act of the faid Parliament: 1690, which was a Step of Reformation not attained to in the Year 1640. For altho' the Parliament in their 6 Act, that Year, revived and fat down upon the same 114 Act 1592, which the Revolution Church sat down upon, yet they did not except against Patronage which was established by the faid Act 1592 but revived the same together with the Act it felf, which was a Corruption in the Church till the Year 1649. that Patrange was abolished by the 39 Act of that reforming Parliament. And this abolishing of Patronages was a reviving and reestablishing that ancient Reformation Principle of the Christian Peoples Divine Right to choose their own Pas-So that the same True reformed Religion professed, received, praclifed, and happily established by Law in the feveral reforming Periods of this Church, is prefently profelled and amborifed by Law, ogreeable to the Words of the Burgefs Octhe, and this reftoring of the Work of Reformation, and Presbyterian Government as professed and happily established by Law, in the several Resorming Periods of this Church, is a Second rescinding the Act Rescissory of in the Parliament 1661; Rescinding the same.

REMARK. VIII.

A F T E R the said Parliament in their Act 1690, restored, and established Presbyterian Church-Government, They expressly rescind, annull and make void all Acts of Parliament formerly made in Favours of, and fore-stablishing abjured Pielacy; and citing the same, they expressly add: "With all other Acts, Laws, Statutes, Or-"dinances and Proclamations, and that in so sar allenarly as the said Acts and others generally and particularly a-"bove mentioned are contrary or prejudicial to inconsistent with, or derogatory from the Protestant Religion, and " Presbyterian Government now established."

These Words in this general Clause resciffory plainly rescind and abolish all the wicked Acts Rescissory made in the first Session of Middleton's perfecuting, bloody Parliament at the Defection to Prelacy 1661, the' there were twenty of them, in regard that the faid Acts Rescissory were made contrair to, and for the supressing and abolishing the True Reformed Provestant Religion and Presbyterian Church-Government, and for the abolishing of Presbytery now revived, restored, and established by this Act. And therefore the faid Acts Rescissory being made both contrair and prejudicial to and inconfiftent with, and derogatory from the True Reformed Protestant Presbyterian Religion, and Presbyterian Church-Government: and the Covenants, cand for the abolishing of the same, to make Way, for the setting up abjured Popish Prelacy, abolished both by this Act and the 3 Act of the former Seffion of Parliament : The fame is as plainly Rescinded, and the foresaid Reserming Acts ratifying and establishing the Work of Reformation and Covenants in that general Clause Rescissory in this Act, as if the fame hat been all expressly cited and repeated. Which general Rescissory Clause not only rescinds the 6 9 and 15 Acts which are the three Acts Rescissory made in the first Selfion of the First Parliament of King Charles II. 1661, but also Rescind the 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 11, 16, &c. made in the same Session of Parliament against eainst Presbyterian-Government and Presbyterian Principles. tho' there be not one of them cited; and the very Rescinding of these wicked Acts Rescissory, ais a plain reviving and establishing all the Acts of our reforming Parliaments ratifying and establishing, and securing Religion, and Presbyterian-Government, made in the reforming Parliament, held betwixt 1640 and 1651 Inclusive : And so the whole Covenanted Work of Reformation, is standing authorised and ratified by Law, in all our Reforming Periods; Both by this Act of Parliament 1690, and by all he Acts of Parliament made fince ratifying the same, cued above. As also, this general Clause Rescissory likewise rescinds that impious and wicked Act, Viz. the fecond Att of the fecond Session, of the same Parliament, declaring null and void the Proceedings of that faithful Assembly at Glafgow, in the Year 1638, in regard the faid Act is made for establishing and corroborating Prelacy, which is both, by this, and the a Act of the former Session of Parliament abolished; and also the said Act, is made contrair to Prefbyterian-Government and Principles, which are by this Act fully restored and established: This corrects that mistaken opinion of many about the Act Rescissory made against the covenanted Work of Reformation, not being rescinded in the first and second Session of Parliament 1661, As also in the 27 Act of the same Parliament, 1690, after reseinding a great number of perfecuting Acts made contrair to Presbyterian-Church-Government and Principles: There is a general Clause Rescissory, rescinding all Laws, made against Presbyterians for their achierence to presbyterian-Government and Principles: And for Noncomformity to Prelacy fince the Year 1661 Inclusive. Which is another plain relainding of the forefaid Acts Rescissory, tho' there were 20, 30, or 100 of them, not only made in the First and Second Sessions of the faid Parliament; but also these made in all the Seffions of Parliament, during both his and his Brothers Reigns from the Year 1661 to the Revolution. For the First Session of that Parliament : Sat down upon the First day of January 1661, and in the First Seffion of the faid Parliament were all the forefaid 3 Acts' Rescissory made, which is the 6, 9, and 15. As also Mr. Wodrow, who had access to know all the publick Records of Parliament, in the laigh Parliament House, when he was writing his History, in Vol. 1. p. 19. declares. That all the Acts made in the First Session of King Charles the Second's first Parliament; (in fo far as they struck at the Constitution of this Bresbyterian Church) were most seasonably and unanimously resemded and annulled in the Parliament 1690, and in Page 24; 25, and 27. He expressly Cites the foresaid 6, 9, and 25; Acts Rescissory, made in the First Session of the Parliament 1661. amongst the rest of the Acts made in that Session of Parliament reseinded at the Revolution 1690. And from Page 19, to 29. Mr. Wodrow cites the 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 6. 7. 8. 9. 10. 11. 15. 16. 17. 36. All made against Prefbyterian-Church-Government and Principles, in the faid first Selfion of the faid Parliament, 1661 all as rescinded. Which is plainly done in the forefaid general Claufe Rescissory in the forefaid Act of Parliament 1690, at the Revolution and gives feveral very just Remarks upon these faid rescinded Acts; all which plainly shew the Mistake of those who fay that the Acts of the First Session of King Charles the feconds First Parliament stand unrepealed to this Day. As.

Also the Author to the History of the Affairs of Scotland from the Restoration of King Charles the II. in the Year 1660. and of the late great Revolution in that Kingdom, written by T. S. Dedicated to the Countess of Sutherland, which gives a most beautiful and just Account of the Revolution, and the several Steps thereof Licensed and Entered according to order, London Printed 1690. Page 227. 228, afferts and declares, That both the foresaid Act Rescissory and the Act of Supremacy were expressly rescinded by two express Acts of Parliament made upon the 25th Day of April 1690. of Grawford Prefident, Their Speeches to the Parliament immediately before the Rescinding the faid Asts. " After "the Parliament immediately fell upon Buliness and the " first Masters of Moment they infilted on were the two " Ads that were read and puffed in the preceeding Seffion " of Parliament but were not touched [with the Scepter] viz. The Act about the King's Supremacy, The Second was the Act to repeal and annull the Act Refeiffory which abolified Presbytery; Which Rescissory Act was made prefently after King Charles the seconds Restoration. And the Question being put, after some small Debate, whether they should be presently touched (with the Scepter) or voted afresh ! It was carried they should be prejently touched, which was done accordingly; Which two Acts refeinding both the wicked Acts Rescissory, and the Act of Supremacy were both touched with the Scepter and turned into a standing Law upon the 25th Day of April 1600. The Act rescinding, the Act of Supremacy is in the Printed Acts of parliament as above the other is not Printed, but is particularly included Homologated and Corroborated in the general Cloufe Rescissory in the said two Acts, which were both made thereafter; for the Act restinding the Act restisfor was made April 21. 1690, and the other two were not made till Time, y. and Tuly 10. the same Year. And the rescinding and abolishing this wicked Act of Supremacy in the mast extensive Manner; which Supremacy was one of the great Springs of the iniquifitious perfecuting Period which was like Cyrus's restoring the Vessels of the House of the Lord Baro, 17.

If it be objected, that the Act on Acts rescissory is not expressly cited in any of the foresaid Acts, it is answered, That in all these Acts Rescissory made in the Parliament 1561, There is not so much as one Act cited of all the resonaing Parliaments held from 1638 to 1651, but all are resembled in a general Clause Rescissory, addit this agreement hold, then allow resonaing Acts of our resonaing Parliaments ratifying and establishing Religion and Work of Resonation were never rescinded, but were all still standing in full force to this day, and when wicked and Persecuting Acts reseind good Laws in general Glauses without citing them, by the same Argument good Laws may rescind wicked wicked ones by a general Clause Recisfory without quoting them in particular. But there is nothing more frequent and clear than for Asts of Parliament both to ratify and refoind Acts of Parliament in general, which are not cited in the faid Acts. For Instance, fee the Act of Parliament dated at Edinburgh 2 4th of August 1960, repealed in the 3 Act of Parliament 1567, the .23 Act of Parliamette 1687, the 114 Act of Parliament, 1592, 1 Act of Parliament 1621, the 4 and 6 Acts of Parliament, 1640, the 6 Act of Parliament, 1641, the 4 and 39 Acts of Parliament, 1649. the 6, 9 and 15 Adts of Parliament, 1667. the 5 Act of Parliament 1662, The 4 Act of Parliament 1681, The 37 Act of Parliament 1685, The 2 and 2 Acts of Parliament 1689. The 4, 5, 19. 22, 23, 25, 27. 28. Acts of Parliament 1690, The 7 Act of Parliament. 1707, dr. So that the reflering of good and the referring of bad Laws in general Claufes of Acts of Parliament has been the common Practice of all the Parliaments of this ancient Kingdem, ever lince our first Reformation from Popery, as the foresaid Instances clearly and madensois prove.

I did not fatisfy my felf with my own Opinion of the forelaid Act of Parliament 1600, but after I had wrote what is above; I went and took the Advice of two Lawyers upon the faid Acts both conterning the Reviving whom Reformation, Laws, and rescinding the Acts Rescissory, which take as follows:

Rescissory Clause; for the very Meaning of the Word re-" viving, is to give new Life to a Thing which was supposed " to have Life before, but at the Time of Reviving is /up-" posed to be Dead: And the Reason and Necessity of this " reviving and restoring the Laws made in Favours of the " Presbyterian reformed Religion, in that reforming Period, " from 1640 to 1650, which had been rescinded in the " Act Rescissory was, because that, during that Period, " there was a Difference betwixt the King and the Par-" liament, and the King had not Ratified any of the Laws " made in Favours of Religion in that reforming Period, " except these made in the Parliament, 1640, and so it was " necoffary for the King and Parliament to ratify and e-" Stablish the same in that Act at the Revolution, to give " them the Strength and Force of Law; and accordingly " thefe Laws, made in Favours of Religion, in that Period, " are pled in Law to this Day.

" It is to be noticed, that our Fore-Fathers at the Revolu-" tion, had the Episcopal Party to struggle with, and who, " at that Time, were very powerful, that they were oblig-"ed to carry Things through in a Hurry, and therefore " perhaps some of the Acts of Parliament that were then - made, would have been more fatisfying had they been " framed in more full and explicite Terms than what they "appear in and feveral Things expressed in general Terms " would, no doubt, in a Time of Peace and Unity, have " been expressed in full and particular Terms, and this " feems to be the Key and Solution to Several Difficulties. " with which the Acts of Parliament at that time were " charged by Scrupplous, but I hope well-meaning Peo-" ple. But who ever accurately reads the Act, will find " that every Thing that is hurtful to the Presbyterion Re-" ligion is vacuated for, by an ofter Clause in the same Sta-" tute, after annuling and rescinding a great many Acts of Proliament nomination all other Acts, Laws, Statutes, " Ordinances, and Proclamations, in fo far as they are con-"trair or Prejudicial to, inconfiftent with, or derogatory " from, the Protestant Religion and Preshytenian-Govern-" ment, established by a former Clause of this Act, are re-" feinded, annulled, and made void. The plain Confe-

a quence must be, that all former Acts, made in Favours of Presbytenian Church-Government and Discipline do " regive a Course: For the Act Rescissory and other Acts " of Parliament contrair to Presbyterian-Church-Government and Discipline, are, in the strongest Terms voided and annulled, and it will make no Difference that every Act is not nominatim, and Specially rescinded for they will " be comprehended under the General Words in the " Claufe."

" It is further thought, that without the Aid of the first " noticed Clause of this A.S., all former Acts made in Fa-" yours of Presbytery would revive, by Vertue of the last " mentioned Clause : For fince all Acts made in Prejudice " to Presbyterian-Church-Government and Discipline are " thereby rescinded; of which Sort no Person will venture " to deny, But that Acts rescinding Acts made in favours " of Presbytery are. And fince it must be allowed, that " the Acts Rescissory are voided and annulled, then the Acts " made in Favours of Presbytery, must have the same force " and Effect as if these Acts Rescissory, had never been " made: For the Quotting the Particular Laws rescinded " and annulled in that Act, is giving a Sample, as it " were of the Laws that were to be annulled as being " contrair to, Ge. To Presbyterian Religion, Go. And " Shews, by that Specimen, that all Laws then in being, " tho' not named, were to be as much voided as these that " were named."

As also when I asked these Lawyers, whether or no the Preamble of the faid Act was a Part of the Act? They answered it was a Part of the Act, the' not a Part of the Enocting Clause; and continued the Reusons of the Act, and the enacting Cause explained and established what was in the Preamble of the Act. And as to the Act Rescissory one of the Advocates declared, That they were all restinded and abolished in this 5 Act of Parliament. 1690. the' there were four Thousand of them. So that both the True Religion as nationally professed in both our reforming Periods, and the Divine Right of Presbyterian-Church-Government; are oth authorised and established by Law, both in the Pr mble and in the enacting Clause of this Act at the Revolution, and by all the Acts of Parliament ratifying the fame made fince, as above mentioned.

From all which, I appeal to the impartial World whether these Acts Rescissory are not as really and clearly rescinded as if the same had been rescinded by an express Act of Parliament nomination

REMARK. IX.

HE faid Act 1690 expressly establishes the Government of the Church, and the Exercises of the fame in the Hands of the Suffering Presbyterian Ministers who were outed fince the first of January 1661; for Nonconformity to Prelacy, or not complying with the Sinful Courses of the times, and are now restored by the 2d Act of the same Session of Parliament, printed above; From this Part of the Act, I remark, (1.) At the Revolution the putting of the Government of the Church into the Hands of the Presbyterian Ministers which were put out after the restoration, was an owning all the Steps and Pieces of Reformation that were attained unto, and happily established in the Church of Scotland from the Year 1638 till that time. And so the Parliament settled the Church upon the same Foundation as it was in that covenanting Period, betwixt 1628, and 1649.

the Ministers that were Licensed and ordained by those Ministers, who had carried on that glorious covenanted Work of Reformation, which were put out of their Churches, from the first of Jan, 1661. for not joyning with the Prelatick Apostacy and Desection from that Time, till the date of the said Act 1690. Which is a plain evidence that the Parliament corroborated and approved of the Work of Reformation, attained unto in that covenanting Period, betwixt 1638 and 1650.; and the putting the Government of the Church into the hands of the Presbyterian Ministers who were thrust out of their Churches since the first of January. 1661. which was before the making any of the Acts Rescissory, is another rescinding and banishing of these wicked Acts Rescissory.

3dly. The putting the Government of the Church into the Hands of the suffering Presbyterian-Ministers, who were cast out of their Churches for not joyning with abjured Prelacy fince the first of January 1661, clearly confirms the former remarks, that the Work of Reformation, from 1638 to 1660; was restored and established in this Church, in the former Part of the Act; for by this Part of the faid Act, the Government is Put into the very Hands of thole Reformers who were honoured to carry on that Bleffed and glorious Covenanted-Work of Reformation, in order that they might begin to build the House of the Lord upon her former Foundation, where formerly they built before they were cast out by the Persecutors. This was both a restoring and authoriting the True reformed Religion as professed in that covenanting reforming Period from 1638 to 1650. and the profession of the same; and that they have not maintained their former Reformation Principles, and carried on the former Work of Reformation in a Covenanting Way fince the Revolution as they did before, is not the Fault of the Law at the Revolution, but of those in whose Hands the Government of the Church was established at that time, and their Successors fince.

REMARK X.

A FTER the faid Parliament, in their Act 1690, had established the Church-Government, and the Exercises thereof, in the Hands of the suffering Presbyterian Ministers, They expressly appoint, that all Ministers shall exercise their Ministry in Paroches by the advice or Confent of the People.

This is a reltoring and establishing another ancient Reformation Principle in the Church, viz. the Christian Peoples Divine Right to choose their own Pastors. And these Words clearly prove, that all the Time-Servers and Hirelings, who have intruded into Paroches, without the call and consent of the Christian People, since the Revolution, are all Intruders contrair to Law: for altho' the Act made at the Revolution, abolishing Patronages, be repealed, yet this Act is never Repealed to this Day, but surther confirmed and established by fundry Acts of Parliament made fince, mentioned in the 5 Remark; all which is a further Proof and Confirmation, that this Act revives the Work of Reformation, For the Christian Peoples Right To choose their own Pastors, was a Reformation Principle established in this Church in both our reforming Periods, mentioned above, everfince our first Reformation from Popery as the Books of Discipline and several Acts, both of ourreforming Assemblies and Parliaments, do clearly prove: And every Time that this 5 Act of Parliament 1690. is ratified in the foresaid Acts of Parliament : all the Laws, Statutes, and Acts of Parliament made for the establishing, maintaining and preserving, of the True Reformed Protestant Pesbyterian Religion and Presbyterian-Government and Principles, made in both our Covenanting, reforming Periods, are ratified, approven and perpetually confirmed; and all the Acts of Rescissory Laws, Statutes, Ordinances, and Proclamations, made contrair to the same in that apollatiling perfecuting Period, from the Defection to Prelacy at the Restoration 1660; to the Revolution 1698, are refeinded, annulled, and made void: So that both the True Religion mentioned in the Burgess Oath in the National Covenant, and in the Solemn League and Covenant, as profesfed in the feveral reforming Periods of this Church, and the Profession of the same is authorised by Law, both at and fince the Revolution; and that the fame has not been practifed in a covenanting Way is rather the Fault of the Professors of the same, than of the Law, authorifing both the fame and the Profession thereof; So that it was contrary to this Act of Parliament, 1690. and all the Acts of Parliament made fince, ratifying the same to Censure and cast out the Affociate Brethren for opposing the Patronage Act 1712, made for thrusting Intruders into Paroches upon the diffenting and reclaiming Congregations .-

And that which confirms what is above faid, the forecited Author of the History of the Revolution, in Page 175, gives a double of King William's express Instruction to the Earl of Melvil his Comissioner to pass an Act, establishing the present Church-Government, and rescinding the Act of Supremacy made in the Parliament, 1690, and all other Acts inconsistent with the said Church-Government: And b in Profecution of the faid Inflruction, the faid Ac of Su premacy was expressly refeinded in the three above ment in ed Acts, Anno: 1690. And altho' the present Churche Government is fettled and established in the 5 Act of the fame Session of Parliament dated June the 7 the same Year and in the same Act rescinds the said Act Recissory and all obber Acts rescissory made in that persecuting Period contrary or prejudicial to, inconfiltent with, or derogatory from the True Reformed Protestant Religion and Preshyterion Church-Covernment, now established as above: So that both the Act of Supremary and the Acts Refaiffory are rescinded by express Instructions from King William. And whoever will compare the Claim of Right and the grievances given to KingWilliam to be redressed at his accepting of the Crown of Scotland, and taking the Scots Coronation Oath, will find the same all redressed and some more; which Revolution Principles and Establishment the Associate Brathren most thenkfully and deservedly acknowledge and apprope both in the Act and Testimony, Page 47, 48, And also in their Answer to Mr. Nairn, Page 50, wherein they expressly fay, " As also what security is given, by the pre-" fent civil Government, unto our Religion, Laws and " Liberties, fuch as no other People now on Earth enjoy " the like."

And to do Justice to every Period, let the foregoing ? Act of Parliament 1690, be duely compared with the 114 Act of Parliament 1592, and the 6 Act of Parliament 1640. (which were the best Acts made for establishing Presbyterian Government in both these reforming Periods, and the Acts upon which the Church was settled in both these said Periods) as is to be feen in the Pages 5 12. 520. of the forecited Confession of Faith, with the said Revolution Act 1690, and this made ratifying the fame fince; The fame Revolution Act will be found the best of the three, both as to the afferting the Divine Right of Presbyterian Church-Government, and giving reasons for establishing the same, and for the abolishing of Prelacy, and for reviving all former Laws, Ratifying and Establishing the same in the former reforming Periods of this Church, and establishing Presbyterian Government and Discipline anew in this Church, and rescinding all Laws and Acts Reseiffory made against.

38 against Presbyterian Government, as any that compares the faid Acts will clearly see; so that there is no ground for treating the faid Revolution Act as some have treat the same and the makers thereof, who are not to Answer for themfelves: And had the Church done as much in favours of Religion and the Work of Reformation, as the State did at the Revolution, the it could have been wished they had done more, there would have been both fewer Grievances in the State, and Grounds of Secession from the Church than there are at this Day: And so the whole of our covenanted Work of Reformation carried on and professed in the several reforming Periods, as professed and authorifed by Law in this reformed Church, is professed, authorifed and established by Law since the Revolution, to all which we are expressly bound by the Religious Clause of the Burgess Oath, by our Covenants National and Solemn League, and by the Bond for renewing our Solemn Covenants; and fo the Revolution Establishment and Settlement plainly Includes, Homologates Ratifies and Corroborates the Reformation Period of this Church, from 1628, to 1650. as also the former, And that they have walked contrair to any of these Principles in their Practice is their Sin for which they have been publickly testified against by the witnesses for Christ against the Defections of the Day, ever fince the Revolution, and is, to this day, by the feceding Brethren in their Act and Testimony; and it is the Sin of the Profesfors who do not profess and practise the True Re. ligion authorised and established by Law, and not the desect or Fault of the Laws authorifing the fame.

REMARK. XI.

A ND that which further confirms what is above faid the same Parliament in their 17 Act dated July 4th 1690. rescind the Fines and Forseitures past since the Year 1665, against the Suffering Presbyterians for not complying and joyning with abjured Prelacy and Tyranny of the late Persecuting Period; and the said Act most justly restorted to these suffering Presbyterians both their Fines and Forseitures, which had been most unjustly taken from them under the late Tyranny and Prelatick Persecution, for not ranny of that perfecuting Period.

As also there were many other Extant Acts passed in that Parliament both in the Printed and unprinted Acts of Parliament, rescinding the Fines and Forfeitures of other suffering Presbyterians for the same Causes, which are not particularly expressed in the foresaid Act. This was a most just Stigma put upon the iniquous Procedure of the infamous Government of the former Persecuting Period, and alfo, a vindication and doing justice and Honour to the Cloud of Witnesser and Sufferers thro' that Perfecuting Period from the Defection to Prelacy, at the Restoration 1660 to the Revolution 1688. and also a clear Vindication of our Covenanted Work of Reformation they fuffered for.

And in the above 27 and 28 Acts of the same Parliament dated July 19th 1690, All the Perfecuting Laws and Acts of Parliament made in that Persecuting Period, against the Work of Reformation, and the fuffering Presbyterians for adhering to the Covenanted Reformation Principles of the Church of Scotland, and Non-conformity to abjured Popish Prelacy, and Non-complyance with the finful Courses of these Persecuting Times, during the Tyrannical and Arbitrary Government of Charles II. and the Duke of York, are expressly rescinded, and the several Persecuting Acts and Laws cited as above; particularly the Acts of Parliament enjoying the Superstitious Observance of Anniversary Days made in the first and subsequent Sessions of Charles whe II his 1st Paaliament 1661, which Act condemns the whole Work of Reformation as a publick Rebellion carried on under the specious Pretence of Reformation. Acts ratifying Laws establishing abjured Prelacy. Acts imposing the taking sinful and unlawful Oaths and Bonds contrair to the Covenants. Acts forcing Presbyterians to joyn with Prelacy. Acts Authorifing the Persecution of the Presbyterians for hearing the Gospel, and receiving sealing Ordinances from their own Ministers. Acts Authorifing the persecuting of Presbyterian Ministers for Preaching the Gospel, Praying to God, and dispensing sealing Ordinances; and that with Death and Confiscution of their Goods, both of Ministers and Hearers. Acts discharging Presbyterian Ministers from ordaining others, or marrying under the Pain of Banishment; and Acts obliging Husbbands.

The First is the V Act. of the Second Session of the first Parliament of King Charles the II, intituled, Act concerning the Declaration to be signed by all persons in publick Trust, The Tenour whereof follows. also exprelly reseinded in the foresaid Acts.

The Third is the V Act of King James VII. first Parliament entituled Act declaring it Treason to take or own the Covenants, dated May 6th 1685. The Tenour whereof follows: "Our Sovereign Lord, and Estates of Parliament, do hereby declare, that the giving or taking of the Natianal Covenant, as explained in the Year 1638. or the League " and Covenant (so commonly called) or written in defence " thereof or owning of them as Lawful or Obligatory on " themselves for others, shall infer the Crime or pains of "Treason," This Act is likewise expressly reseinded in the forefaid Acts.

And when these persecuting Acts, made against our Covenants are rescinded, then all the Acts made in our reforming Parliaments ratifying the same, take place; and for a Proof and Confirmation hereof, when the Presbyterian Diffenters renewed the Covenints National and Solemn League 1712, they were never challenged by the Civil Govern. ment for the same, and also, when the Affociate Presbytery and several Congregations, renewed the faid Covenants, they are never challenged for the same; So that the Seceders have Law upon their fide for all their Principles; and ought, and should plead the same, altho' they be most unfully thrust out of their Churches by the Tyrannical and Arbitrary Government of the present established Church. For the whole of the perfecuting Laws made during the Tyrannical and Arbitrary Government of Charles II, and the Duke of York, during that 28 Years of Tyranny and Prelatick Persecution, from the Restoration 1660, to the Revolution 1688, against the Covenants and blessed Work of Reformation; carried on in that reforming Period of the Church, from 1638, to 1650. are all either expressly rescinded, by express Acts of Parliament, or plainly rescinded in general Rescissory Clauses in Acts of Parliament made at the happy Revolution, as I have shown above; and so the Covenants, and Work of Reformation, in the Year 1628 and 1629, and therest of that reforming Period, are restored at the Revolution, both by the Rescinding of the Persecuting Acts, made against the same, and by reviving ratifying, and confirming the Acts of our reforming Parlia. ments, made in that Reforming Period, ratifying and establishing the same. And there is no sound Adherer to the Covenanted Reformation, attained unto in that Covenanting Period betwixt 1638 and 1650. who has a just Regard to our Religion, Lives, Laws, and Liberties, who will speak slightingly or condemn that Wonderful Revolution, when the three Kingdoms were rescued by the surprising Favour of GOD, from the intolerable Tyranny, Popery and Slavery of the Popish Duke of York and his Adherents, at the Glorious Revolution.

There were many good and excellent Laws made at the Revolution (which ought to be had in perpetual Remembrance, and ought to be spoken of to the thankful Remembrance of that remarkable Period) reviving and restoring the several Steps of Resonation attained to in that coveranting and the rest of King William and Queen Mary's Sessions of Parliament, which are to be seen, both in the Printed and unprinted Acts of Parliament to this Day; Befides the owning, reviving, and restoring of the whole of the Covenanted Reformation, attained unto in the foresaid reforming Period, by the Act. 1690. reviving, ratifying, and perpetually confirming all Laws, Statutes, and Acts of Parliament made ratifying, and establishing the same, in our several reforming Periods, and rescinding all Acts, Laws, Statutes, Or. dinances and Proclamations formerly made contrary or prejudicial to, inconfistent with, or derogatory from the fame, as the faid Act more fully bears: So that the whole of the Reformation attained unto in that reforming Period, from 1638 to 1650, is plainly revived and restored in the faid general Clause, in this and other Acts of Parliament, made at the happy Revolution. It cannot be denyed, but the principal Part of the Reformation attained to in the Period from 1628 to 1650, was the Purity of Dectrine, contained in our Westminster Confession of Faith; which altho' it was received and adopted by the Church of Scotland, Anno, 1647. and ratified by the Estates of Parliament 1649. Yet was never embodied into the Civil Laws of Scotland, until it was done by the foresaid Revolution, Act 1690. Asabove: So that it is a great militake, and not matter of Fact, to fay, That all the Reformation attained unto in the foresaid reforming covenanting Period, betwixt 1638 and 1650, were neglected and passed by, and buried at the Revolution; When we Teltify against what is wrong or wanting in the Revolution Establishment, we should als fo, at the same Time, acknowledge what is right in the same according to the Scripture Precept and Example Revelation, 2 and 3 Chapters; Especially when we are partaking of the Benefit of the same which is both agreeable to Scripture and Reason.

There are several Mistakes—in the Act and Testimony printed 1737. page 49 of the first Impression, and in the Acknowlegement of Sins before the Bind for renewing our Solemn Covenants, page 101. as is evident from the foregoing Remarks, which Mistake should be corrected and amended. Such as, (1.) That the present Church Government at the Revolution 1690, was entirely fettled according to the civil Establishment in the Year 1592. (2.) That all the Legal Securities given to this Church in that Covenanting Period from 1638 to 1650, are over-looked and passed by at the Revolution. (3.) That all the Acts of the first Session of King Charles II's. first Parliament, together with the infamous Act Rescissory (Anno 1661) are standing unrescinded. (4.) That all the steps of Reformation attained unto in that Covenanting Period betwixt 1638 and 1650, were neglected and passed by at the Revolution 1690. (5.) That in feetling of Presbytery at the Revolution, all that was done against a Covenanted Work of Reformation in the first Session of Parliament of King Charles after his Restoration is left untouched. (6.) That the second Act of the second Session of the Parliament 1661, declaring null and void the Proceedings of that faithful General Assembly at Glasgow in the Year 1638, is unrepealed. (7.) Also it is a Mistake in the said Act and Testimony, Page 28. where it is said that King Charles II, was Crowned at Scoon upon the first Day of January 1650 whereas Mr. Douglass Sermon at the said Coronation, and the Form and order of the faid Coronation; And Mr. Brown in his Apologetical Relation from Page, 64 to 67, clearly and undeniably proves, that he was not Crowned till the first of January 1651. As also several of the same miltakes and Errors are likewise in the Plain Reasons: All which ought to be corrected and amended. We should neither call Church nor State worse than they are. It is no Shame for a Man, or a Society ofmen to confess and acknowledge their Mistake. It is reported of the great Augustine, that after he had wrote and published 60 Volumes of his Works in Folio, that he read them over, and published another Volume of Retractions of the Errors he had published in the fame; And he had more Honour by that one Volume' than by all the other 60 And the Assembly of Divines at Westminster in their Exhoristion to the taking of the Solemn League and Covenant Printed in the Confessions of Faith; speaking of Mistakes, or contradictory Oaths Page 104 lay, " If yet there should be any Oath found unto which any Minister or others have entred, not warranted by the Laws of God and the Land, in this Case they must teach themselves and others, that such Oaths call for Repentance, not Pertinacy in them." And the same Assembly of Divines, in the 4 Section of the 22 Chapter of the Confession of Faith, declare that an Oath cannot oblige to Sin. In consequence of which, viz, that no Oath can oblige to Sin. If the separating Brethren can make good that the Burges Oath is sinful, then they gain their Point; But it being the same True Religion mentioned in the Burges Oath which we are bound unto in our Covenants National and Solemn League, then it cannot possibly be unlawful in the Burgess Oath and lawful in the Covenants, being both built on the same Basis.

This Mistake is in Part confessed and corrected by what the Allociate Brethren, who describedly say in their Answer to Mr. Nairn, Page 50, where, speaking honourably of the faid wonderful Revolution, fay, " At and fince the " wonderful Revolution, Anno 1688. the three Kingdoms " have been rescued by the surprising Favour of God, from " intolerable Tyranny, Popery, and Slavery : And, " this Presbytery dare not, without ingratitude to God, " and injuffice to the Subject, presently under Considera-" tion dissemble or lightly esteem the Stigma then put upon " the infamous Government of the former Period; The " Justice and Honour done to the Cloud of Witnesses and " Sufferers thro' the same by the Act rescinding Fines and " Forfeitures, as also, what Security is given, by the pre-" fent Civil Government, unto our Religion, Lives, and " Liberties fuch as no other People now on Earth enjoys " the like." See also the faid Revolution honourably and deservedly commended in the first Impression of the Act

I am perfectly suprised and astonished, to hear some Seceders expressly plead. That they have no Law upon their Side for their Principles, whereby they make the Work of Resormation, which they are pleading for, and carrying on plain Rebellion and themselves a Company of Rebels: Whereas they have both the Resormation and Revolution Laws upon their Side, and ought to plead the same for the Defence of their principles. Our worthy and much honoured Resormers pled all the Laws, Clauses, and Articles of

Laws in Acts of Parliament for the Defence of their Principles, although there had been feveral Things wrong in the same Acts, as are to be seen in the Acts pled upon, and infert in our National Covenant; in which Acts many Things were wrong; but now if any Thing be wanting or wrong in an Act of Parliament, be it never fo good, all is prefently condemned in Bulk, because of that which is wrong; or if they suppose it is wrong altho it be not so. Our Reformers when they met with Laws speaking obscurely or ambiguously, they explained the same against the Makers thereof, because they could have spoken more plainly, Catherwoods History, Page 193. whereas when the Seceders explain fuch Laws, they explain the fame against themselves, and for the makers of the said Laws, which is a wrong and erroneous Way of Reasoning. There is no Inconsistency betwixt an approving and pleading what is Right in an Act of Parliament, and either excepting or testifying against, or condemning what is wrong in the fame Act of Parliament, only Instance the Parliament in the forefaid Act 1690, most justly excepts against the Corruption of Patronages established both in the 114 Act of Parliament 1592, and in the 6 Act of Parliament 1640. and yet approves and ratifies all the rest of the said 114 Act of Parliament, 1592, to which many more Instances may be added wherein many bad Clauses and Parts of Acts of Parliament are rescinded, and that which is good and right are established in the very same Act.

For this, also see one of the above Acts of Parliament, where the Persecuting Part of an Act of Parliament is rescinded; and the rest of the same Act is not: which is, Act 2, Session 1. of King Jame's Parliament, that Wicked Part of this Act that is rescinded is a Part condemning our Reformers as Rebels, and afferting the King's absolute Power, and making the People Slaves.

It was always the Principles and Practice of our worthy and renowned Reformers to plead for Reformation, from what was right in Acts of Parliament: But we plead against the same Work of Reformation and ourselves, both from what is wrong or wanting in Acts of Parliament: as if our Work of Reformation was contrary to Law and so hold our Reformation as Rebellion and our selves as a parcel of Rebels, to the weakening of our own Hands, and the exposing our selves to the Laughter and Mockery of Adversaries and the Fury and Wrath of the Government. Tho' there had been no more but the Reformation of the Church of Scotland before 1592, ratified by Law since the Revolution, to which we are bound unto by our Covenants, both National and Solemn League, it ought not to be condemned, far more when that and the second Reformation Period from 1638 to 1650, is ratified since the said Revolution, the same should not be condemned.

The Commission of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, gives a true Interpretation of Laws in their Supplication to King James the VI Anno 1585, in Catherwood's History page 193 "They that may speak plainly in making, of Laws, Contracts or doing such Things, and speak obscurely and ambiguously, such Contracts and Laws are to be exponed against the Maker or Former, Because they could speak more plainly. But some Seceders do the quite it is directly contrair to, and condemned by an express Article of the Claim of Right to stretch obsolete and perfecuting Laws against the Truth, and the Owners thereof particularly in the Case of the late Earl of Argyle to the Scandal and Reproach of the Justice of the nation. But if contrair, by explaining the Laws against themselves, contrair against the suffering Presbyterians in that persecuting Persod, what must it be to the seceders pleading for the old persecuting Laws both against themselves and the Cause themselves are the cause than a persecution from the cause themselves are the cause than the cause the c

they own, when no Person is requiring such a Thing at their Hands, which is an erroneous Way of Reasoning, not only like people out of their way, but rather like selfmurderers or the Actions of Persons out of the right excercises of their Reason, whereas, these very Laws are just for them as is clearly proven above.

If the civil Government were doing this, we could not help but suffer: But for Seceders to do it against themselves, when it is upon their side, is very strange Conduct, And, whether it be done to expose the Government, or their own Ignorance, is best known to themselves. There are

King William of blessed Memory, made more good Laws in his first Parliament at the Revolution for the Security of our Religion, Laws and Property, than ever were made in a Parliament in Scotland, since our first Reformation from Popery: Severals of which are cited above, and the rest to be seen in the printed Acts of Parliament. It is the Sin of the Seceders to speak so much against, and pour such Contempt upon the happy and glorious Deliverance, which God wrought for these Nations at the Revolution, for which the Lord is contending with them at this present Day.

There was one of the feparating Brethren's Elders, who faid to another Elder, who told me, That they were doing all they could to bleacken the Revolution, or make the Revolution a wrong Settlement; for, if they got not that done, their whole Cause would fall to the Ground: If this be a Christian Spirit, let the World judge, we should call Things neither better nor worfe than they are; but tell the Truth of every Person and Party, without Respect of Persons. The Scripture Rule is rather to put the best Construction upon Things, and judge charitably. Truth needs no Lies to support it, I grant there has not been such an honourable Mention made of the last glorious covenanting Reformation Period, in the Revolution Settlement, as ought defervedly to have been made, but when we are commanded not to despile the Day of small Things, certainly we should not condemn the Day of great Things. But whoever condemns the Revolution Establishment, they will not only condemn our Reformation Establishment, which is ratified at the Revolution, and all the good Acts made at the faid Revolution, which we ought not to bury, but also they will revive all the old perfecuting Acts, and bloody murdering Edicts iffued forth against the suffering Presbyterians; the Acts made in Favours of Prelacy; the Acts Rescissory, the Act of Supremacy, and all the rest of the perfecuting Acts made, declaring our Reformers, Rebels, and our Work of Reformation, Rebellion in that perfecuting Period, which were all releinded and abolished by the Revolution Establishment:

blishment; and so their last Error will be worse than their first. If we condemn all Churches Constitutions, because of some Defects and Corruptions about them, then will we condemn the Constitution of this Church in all our reforming Periods; for there was no Period in which she had not some of the same. 2dly. These that condemn the Revolution Establishment, or present National Profession of the true Religion, they condemn our Confession of Faith, Catechisms, our Directories for Worship, our Books of Discipline, and Form of Presbyterian Church Government; for these are the true Religion presently nationally professed and authorifed by Law, as above: And perhaps those who condemn the national Profession of these received Standards this Year, may condemn themselves the next Year. We are always to make a Difference betwixt the true Religion contained in our received Standards, and the Corruptions of the Times; in regard that we are by the Burgels Oath, the Covenants, and the Bond (subscribed at renewing the Covenants) bound to continue itedfalt in the Profession and Defence of the one, contend and bear Testimony against the other. If it be faid, that what is faid above weakens the Secession, I answer, The Testimony of the Associate Presbytery was not against the true Religion settled and professed at the Re-And that the Grounds of Secession still remain, will appear by feriously reading the Reasons of not acceding to the Judicatories of the established Church, and their Declinature; and it is lamentable, that the Judicatories of the Church are so far from removing the Grounds of Secession from them, that they have greatly increased them, by their Heaven-daring, God-dishonouring, and Generation-killing Conduct, in the Matter of Mr. Leechman's Sermon. But the Committee of the Presbytery of Glasgow, in their printed Remarks, &c. are justly commendable, for what they fay against Mr. Leechman's Sermon, especially Page 44 and 78, the omitting of a feafonable Testimony against them in that Matter, was where the Affociate Synod loft their Way, and I fear one of the principal Causes of God's Anger against them. But it is comfortable, that that Matter is now to be gone about, which, to be fure, is a taking up the Ground they have loft; at whose Door this Neglect lies, is well known, and I am fure the feparating Brethren

But least I should be here mistaken, as if I had resiled from our Reformation Principles, and were pleading for the present Church, I hereby declare, that I have no Design, or Intention to vindicate or defend any Evil, Corruption or Defection, or finful Course in the present Church, or strengthen the Hands of the Joiners with the lame; but gives my hearty and publick Adherence to all the faithful Testimonies that have been given to the Doctrine, Worship, Discipline, Government, and Reformation Principles of the Church of Scotland, as professed, and happily established in her several reforming Periods, to which we are bound by the National Covenant of Scotland, and the Jolemn League and Covenant of the three Kingdoms, and against all the Evils, Corruptions, Defections, and finful Courses of Apostacy and Backsliding from the same, both in former and present Times, only what is right in the present Church, I never did nor intend to condemn; and when I testify against the Corruptions in the present established Church on the one Hand, I also testify against the sinful Separation and Extravagancies of the leparating Brethren, and their Adherents, on the other.

I lay my Account with Censures from sundry Persons and Parties, pretended Friends and salse Brethren: But since I have aimed at telling the Truth, after the utmost Search which I could make for the Vindication of Truth, without respect of Persons or Parties, I cannot help it. I never tell my Judgment but I give my Reasons: I pretend to no Infallibility, I am still lying open to Light, and if any shall convince me of any Mistake, I shall acknowledge the same: For it is true, Strictness to correct and resorm Mistakes, and amend the same, whether in Principle or Practice, and let Truth have the Victory, and let God have all the Glory.

POSTSCRIPT.

FTER I had wrote what is above, I went to Thomas Smith elder, in Stanhil, near Bababachley, yet alive, who was one of those who suffered under that persecuting Period, and was at the Revolution 1690, then a Man of 24 Years of Age, (to see what Account he could give me concerning the rescinding the Att Rescissory and the Revolution Settlement.) Who informed me, That he, and other fuffering Presbyterians who had fuffered under the late Tyranny and Persecution, gave in their Grievances, (by Way of Representation and Memorial) both to the Convention of Estates and Parliament at the Revolution; which were kindly received, and promifed to be redreffed: Among which the Act Rescissory was one of the principal Grievances, and Matters complained upon, as well as upon the Tyranny and arbitrary Government, and Persecution during that persecuting Period. All which Grievances were redressed in Bulk, in the Acts abolishing Prelacy, rescinding the Act of Supremacy, restoring Presbyterian Ministers, ratifying the Confession of Faith, and settling Prefbyterian Church-Government. Acts Rescissory rescinding the perfecuting Laws, Acts restoring the Fines and Forfeitures, and other good Acts and Laws made in that Parliament 1690, at the happy Revolution above mentioned. He also told me, That all the Acts Reseissory, and all other Acts made contrary to Presbyterian Principles and Government, were expressly rescinded in the foresaid fifth Act of Parliament 1690. And for further Proof hereof, see the same in the Book, intituled, A short Memorial of the Sufferings and Grievances of the Presbyterians in Scotland, printed 1690, and in Page second. The wicked Act Rescissory is infert in the very third Grievance, the Heads of which Grievances were fummed up in the Claim of Right, and Articles of Grievances, and given in to King William and Queen Mary, (at their Acceptance of the Crown of Scotland, and taking the Scots Coronation Oath) to be redressed in Parliament: Which was done accordingly, as above, and is printed with the Claim of Right, in the printed Acts of Parliament, Vol. III. Page 155, 642, 643, above mentioned. He also told me, That all that was then fought from the State was granted, and they got the Laws made so to their Mind, that there were no Complaints upon the Laws, which is a further Confirmation of all that is said above.

And when I further asked him, What was the Reason of fettling the Church at the Revolution, upon the Act of Parliament 1592, and not upon the Reformation in the Year 1638? He answered, as to the settling of the Church upon the Act 1592, the only Reason of that was, then we had the King and Parliament countenancing and going along with the Church in Reformation Work, and establishing the same: Whereas in the Year 1638, the King was an Enemy to the Church and Work of Reformation, and opposed all Reformation Work to the Day of his Death, except what he was forced to in the Year 1641. And what King Charles the Second, his Son promited at his Coronation, he also publickly broke, and revoked the fame: And also persecuted the Church till the Day of his Death. And King William being an entire Stranger to our Church-Government and State, it was thought proper to lay these Things before him, to let him know the Antiquity of our Church's State; but, in the 1690, the Parliament included the hail covenanted Work of Reformation carried on in that reforming Period, from 1620 to 1650, and revived and ratified all the Acts and Laws, establishing the same. which supplied any Defect in the said Settlement, as the Act itself (above) more fully bears. And it is that Reformation Period and Establishment 1592, that both the Burgels Oath, the National Govenant, and the Solemn League and Covenant, expressly binds to, but binds to none of the Corruptions either in these reforming Periods, nor ever fince.

King William and Queen Mary, both took and subscribed the Scots Coronarion Oath, at their Admission as King and Queen of Scotland, in which royal Oath, they were obliged to rule and defend us, according to the laudable and righteous Laws of the Nation, and to govern us according to all that is contained in the Covenant, and the Laws establishing the Work of Reformation, as the said Oath

Oath above more fully bears. And the King fince the Revolution, particularly King William of bleffed Memory, tho' he took not the Covenants, yet has done more for the covenanted Work of Reformation, and for the perfecuted Ministers and Profesfors of the Presbyterian reformed Religion in the Church of Scotland, than all our covenanted Kings: Such as King James the Sixth, and King Charles the Second ever did. Instance the Parliament's restoring all the Fines and Forfeitures, beginning at Mr. James Guthrie, and ending at Mr. James Renwick inclusive, and restoring them to their Honours, Forseitures, good Names and Reputation: As also the rescinding the persecuting Laws, likewise all the Parts of our Doctrine, Worship, Discipline and Government, which have the first Place in the Covenants, are established in the foresaid Acts of Parliament, particularly in the fixth Act of Parliament 1707, in which Act, the Doctrine, Worship, Discipline and Government of the Church of Scotland is more expressly mentioned and established, than in any Act of Parliament made since our first Reformation from Popery, and which we are all bound to maintain and defend by our folemn Covenants. Whereas thele two covenanting Kings were commonly either Oppolers, or Perfecutors of the fame, and the found Adherers thereunto: And if we get not better covenanting Kings than ever we have had, we need not care, although we never see more of them. There is found amongst us to this Day, a finful and shameful Ingratitude both to God and Man, for our merciful and wonderful Deliverance at the late happy Revolution, especially with the reverend Mr. Gib, and his separating Brethren, and their Adherents. And our Unthankfulness and Ingratitude for such a wonderfin and remarkable Deliverance from Popery, Prelacy, Tyranny, and Slavery at the Revolution, may provoke a just and holy God, to give us up to the Hands of those, or the like cruel and blood-thirsty Enemies, (if Mercy and speedy Repentance prevent not the fame,) of whom we were lately in very great Danger by the Popish Pretender's Popish Son, at the Head of an Army of Malignant, Prelatich. Popish, Jacobitish Rebels, who robbed and plundered thro' this Island, as they did under the perfecuting Period: From whole Rage and Tyranny we were mercifully delivered vered at Culloden Muir, upon the 16th Day of April 1746, by the Hand of Duke William, as the illustrious Instrument under God, of our so remarkable and glorious Deliverance: Who was made like another King William to these Nations, a lasting Remembrance of which we ought always to keep deeply imprest on our Memories.

To conclude what is faid above, it is clearly proven, that all the Acts Rescissory, and all Acts, Statutes, Ordinances and Proclamations, that ever were made against the true Religion and Work of Reformation, are refeinded and abolished. 2dly. That all Laws, Statutes and Acts of Parliament, that ever were made in Favours of true Religion and Work of Reformation, are revived, ratified, perpetually confirmed and established in Scotland, and as far as in Favours of the true Church of Christ in Scotland. 3dly. That the true Religion as nationally professed in the several reforming Periods of this Church, is prefently professed and authorised by Law, and so there is no Ground for the 13. separating Brethren, and their Adherents, condemning the religious Clause of the Burgess Outh. And, 4thly. that whoever condemns the Revolution Establishment, condemns the Reformation Establishment of this Church in her several covenanting reforming Periods, in regard that the fame is included, homologate and corroborate in the fame, as the foregoing Remarks does clearly and undeniably prove.

PETITION presented to the Chancellor and Council, in Name of all the Men, Women, Children and Servants of Edinburgh, against the Service-Book, 1627.

Unto your Lordship humbly shews, We Men. Women and Children, and Servants, Indwellers within the Burgh of Edinburgh, That whereas we being urged with this Book of Service, and having confidered the same, we find many Things therein so far different from that Form of God's Worship, universally received and professed within this Kingdom; and WE BURGESSES, being, at our Entry and Admission, deeply sworn for the Maintenance ce thereof that now makes our Hearts to tremble, and our weak Confeiences will not fuffer us to embrace and practife this urged Service. We have this long Time palt winked at tome former Alterations, being put in Hope, that no further Nantion should follow. But now we being opprefled with our just Fears, to see ourselves deprived of that Liberty in ferving GOD, which ever hath been approved by Church and Kingdom: In Place whereof, We are now like to be confirmed to embrace another, which hath neither been spitated, nor received either by General Affembly or Parliament: In such Extremity, We are most humbly to supplicate Your Lordships to consider our prefent Effate, and that this Buliness is a Matter of so great Weight and Confequence, as should not appear to be a needless, Noise of simple Women, but it is the absolute Defire of all Our Hearts for Prefervation of TRUE RELI-GION amongst Us, which is dearer to Us than either E-Hate or Life. And therefore We do humbly crave, That antho reft of the Kingdom, to We may have a Time to advise, and that Your Lordships may find out some Way. whereby We may be dehvered from the Feat of this and all other Imevations of this Kind, and have the Happinots to enjoy the TRUE RELIGION, as it hath been by the great Mercy of God reformed in this Land, and authorifed by His Majelty, who may long and prosperously tein a over Us, and Your Lordships Answer, Oc.
